Time to make our youth proud of town

YOUNG people, parents and supporters turned out in force at last week's Lyme Regis Town Council meeting to plead for more youth facilities in the town.

Joy and Ivor Uglow, of North Avenue in Lyme Regis, handed over a petition of over 1,000 signatures of support for a skatepark facility to the council.

By Francesca Evans

In the public forum, Mrs Uglow said: "I believe this petition represents the overwhelming support for this facility from within the community."

Mr Uglow compared a potential skatepark with this year's Christmas lights, describing them both as something the town "should be proud of".

"When I traded in the town 10 years ago, the Christmas lights were pathetic but now they are fantastic. The town should be congratulated and be proud of them. I hope we can soon say we are proud to have a decent youth facility in the town too."

Harry Warren was also present at the meeting with several young skateboarders from the InSPARation Youth Café.

Lyme teenager John Gage, 19, who is a volunteer with the lifeboat crew, said: "When we had a temporary skatepark in the gardens we went there all the time. Now, as good as the youth café is, it's a little young for people my age, so we have nowhere to go.

"I have a driving licence so I can sit and hang out in

Christmas treat for majorettes

SUNDAY turned out to be very special for members of the much in demand Lyme Regis Majorettes.

After another busy year in which the youngsters have appeared at dozens of events all over the area, organisers felt they deserved a real Christmas treat.

The majorettes were told to put on their party frocks and report to the Woodmead Halls. There they were each given a makeover and then treated to a trip around town in Hummer limousines before being whisked down to the Royal Lion Hotel for a traditional Christmas meal.

Majorettes chairman Sue Higgs commented: "The girls have worked so hard this year that we wanted to give them a very special Christmas treat."

over as the new Team Rector of the Bridport Team Ministry in November

As the Team Rector, The Reverend Canon Evans looks after six churches in Bridport and the surrounding area.

Originally from South Wales he moved to the area from North Wiltshire where he was the Rector of a group of eight churches known as the Gauzebrook group.

The Reverend Canon Evans lives in the rectory by St Mary's church, with his wife Chris, youngest daughter Chloe, son-in-law Tony, and their granddaughter Amelia.

■ HOW are you settling in since your arrival?

I'm really enjoying it. It's a very friendly town and there is lots going on. The churches have been really welcoming and they are full of really talented and good people who are really engaged with their local community. It's a really good place to be.

■ HOW busy is the Christmas period for you?

We have lots on. All of the churches have services on Christmas eve and Christmas day and it is a particularly special and busy time of the year because it's a time when lots of people who wouldn't normally come, come along to church. It's really great to welcome old and new friends at Christmas time. There is something about Christmas that makes people more relaxed, friendlier and happier and that's something about the essence of what Christmas is. Christmas is about peace on earth and goodwill to all people and we get that most Christmases in our churches which is fantastic so it's a very busy time.

■ WHAT is your favourite part of Christmas?

Christmas afternoon. When all the services have finished it's an opportunity to be with the family. It's such a busy time and by Christmas afternoon I'm really tired so it's just a nice time to rest and enjoy Christmas myself with

■ WHAT is your favourite Christmas memory?

The first Christmas with our daughters was a very special Christmas. My wife and I spent a long time getting it ready for them and then seeing them enjoying the paper and the box more than the present was a really special time. We've got the blessing of that again this year because our granddaughter is living with us and it is her first Christmas so we are going to enjoy another first Christmas this year.

■ WHAT is the most important thing to remember at Christmas?

The most important thing is the reason for the season and why we are celebrating and that is obviously because we are remembering the birth of Jesus. It was a fantastic gift from God that came into the world and that really for the churches and the Christians is the focus. We all get wrapped up a bit in the hustle and bustle of the festivities, which are great as well, but the real core message is what God did for us when he gave us Jesus

■ WHAT is on your Christmas list this year?

I've asked for some books because I like to read. I'm particularly interested in the history of the Royal Navy so

I've got a couple of books that I've seen in the book shops in town that I've asked for. One of which is to go with a new series that starts after Christmas with Dan Snow, I'm looking forward to watching that as well as reading the

■ WHAT are the best and worse presents you've

The best present was when my wife bought me an annual ticket for the local golf course which I thought was a very generous gift, not just because of the cost but because of the time I then spent on the golf course. I'm very much an "if only" golfer. If only it had gone a bit further, if only it had gone straight in or if only it hadn't hit that man. The worst, well there is a long list of disappointments really but inevitably socks and handkerchiefs. They always seem to pop up and I just wonder why?

■ WHAT three dream guests would you like round for Christmas dinner?

Admiral Jackie Fisher. He was chief of the navy at the turn of the century. He was a very devoted Christian man and a very difficult man by all accounts but he prepared the country ready for what he could see looming with the First World War. The rest of the family would hate it but I think that would be really quite something. It would be quite nice to have St Paul because he was such a driven man and without all his efforts the church as we know it today wouldn't exist so I'd like to know how he did it. Finally, for a bit of fun I would have Eric Morecambe who would keep us entertained and get us laughing.

■ WHAT are your New Year's resolutions?

To try and keep the ones that I haven't kept for the last 40 years. I think probably to try and get a better balance in my life to give me more time to enjoy Bridport because it does tend to be very busy. It's a fantastic place to live with the beauty of the countryside and the coast so I want to make sure I have time to enjoy that

Chalet owners up in arms over council water charges

MONMOUTH Beach caravan and chalet owners are opposing additional water charges enforced by Lyme Regis Town Council.

The caravans and chalets are currently connected to water meters that indicate individual water usage for each site, meaning a retrospective charge can be made to each owner. However, the council recently agreed to charge an additional £10 for maintenance and eventual replacement of the meters, and £25 to cover the costs of administration of the water metres, unmetered usage through stand pipes and fire hydrants, and the maintenance of the water supply infrastructure.

The council have since received a complaint from Tony Tuck on behalf of the chalet owners.

Speaking of the £25 charge, Mr Tuck wrote: "I readily admit that if you chose to set up a fairly complicated charging system then there will be administrative costs and also that the infrastructure must be maintained.

"However, it is simply not acceptable for the council to load the costs of 'unmetered usage through stand pipes and fire hydrants' onto caravan and chalet owners, for these are a necessary cost to the council and used by all and sundry. You can calculate what reduction this means for the £25 charge.

Mr Tuck also criticised a comment made by the Mayor, Councillor Michaela Ellis, that it was "unfair for the water usage to continue to be paid for from the town council's funds, as this did not happen elsewhere".

He said: "This statement is simply wrong and should not be allowed to stand.

"The caravans and chalets have, since they were first erected, paid for their water supply as part of an inclusive site licence. It has never been a 'burden' on the local council taxpayer.

"What is at issue now, is how can that be unscrambled fairly to enable water meters to be used to determine costs, and what reduction should be applied to the site licence to reflect the fact that water will from 2010/2011 be excluded and billed separately?"

"It is also simply untrue that 'it does not happen else-

"It is also simply untrue that 'it does not happen elsewhere'. Practices vary; indeed it is commonplace for some licences to have water inclusive as part of the licence or rent. It is a matter of real concern that the summing up of this debate should reveal such glaring ignorance of the facts and misunderstandings."

Mr Tuck also said that he would be following up the "very un-civic language" used by Councillor Stan Williams at the Policy Committee meeting earlier this month

He added: "I also want to register my genuine disappointment at the failure of Lyme Regis Town Council to consult with the Chalet and Caravan Owners Association. I thought we had reached an understanding. The handling of this issue reveals that some of your councillors have very short memories, to put it mildly."

The complaint was discussed at last week's full council meeting, where chalet owner Councillor Sally Holman also expressed her disappointment at the lack of communication between the council and chalet and caravan owners, adding: "I have no problem paying for the water I use but I don't want to be charged for water that others use."

She then left the room having expressed a prejudicial interest in the matter.

Councillor Stan Williams said that he had seen the fire hydrants being used by other people but thought most of their usage was "the responsibility of the chalet owners, as they use them to wash their cars and boats".

He added: "This is a nasty letter. It's an attack on myself, on the Mayor and on my freedom of speech.

"What we don't collect the council taxpayers will have to pay. I hope it is sorted out as soon as possible in the New Year"

Councillor Owen Lovell said: "Between £6,000 and £7,000 of water goes unidentified each year. I am not totally convinced that we are not paying for water we don't need.

"We will identify where the rest of it goes and someone will pay for it."

The town clerk Mike Lewis reported that it was currently being investigated whether any of the water metres were still switched on, when they should be off as it is winter, or whether is was possible that any other enterprise in the Monmouth Beach area had somehow connected to the council's water meters.

It was also being considered whether there could be a leak in the system, explaining the thousands of pounds worth of unidentified water the council has been billed for.

Despite the complaints, the council did not decide to change their decision about the additional charges.

The issue may be considered again the new year when a working group will be set up to look in depth at the cost of the chalet and caravan site licences, and depending on the results of the current investigation.

New travel agents to open in New Year

THE new travel agents to be opened by Sue Langdon (pictured) in Lyme Regis the New Year will be called "Your World"

Sue will return to being an independent operator following the closure of Vacation World in Bridge Street two weeks ago.

Sue set up her own independent agency called Lyme Travel 25 years before selling to Let's Go Travel, which then became Harvey World Travel but eventually went into administration.

The Lyme branch then became Vacation World but the business was closed and moved to Ilminster with very little notice being given to Sue and her staff.

Sue has been overwhelmed with support from her customers and will be opening the new business in January.

my car, but then people complain about us. If we had a skatepark, we wouldn't be loitering around in our cars and car parks anymore."

Mr Gage also thanked all those who had turned up to support the cause.

Fran Williams, project manager of the Lyme Youth Arts music project "B Sharp!", and Lyme resident Terry O'-Grady, also attended the meeting to support the skatepark appeal, as well as to request a public meeting about the future of the Club for Young People.

Parents have recently expressed the need for an update on the former club building in Church Street, which was closed several years ago when it was deemed unfit for use and remains empty.

Mrs Williams described youth facilities as "urgently needed" in Lyme Regis, using the Lyme Youth Arts project as an example.

She said: "The 'B Sharp!' group have to use my home for meetings and practices. Music equipment is stored in my living room and we often have to rent the Powerboat Club for sessions. This is not ideal."

Mrs Williams and Mr O'Grady requested the council put pressure on the trustees of the Club for Young People to make a decision on what they are going to do with the building and to make their developments much more open to the public.

When the Club for Young People was discussed later in the meeting, Councillor Sally Holman, chairman of the Lyme Regis Youth Consortium, announced that a public meeting was being scheduled for January and Oliver Letwin MP was supporting the issue.

Councillor Peter Williams criticised the Club for Young People trustees for not being more open about their discussions and developments.

Councillor Owen Lovell said: "If people want to challenge he trustees position at an election, that is fine, but as a public authority we cannot go around telling the trustees of anything how to function. That, as I hope Councillor Williams will recognise, is reality."

Grant to help communities deal with climate change

THE coastline of Charmouth and Seatown is to benefit from a £376,500 funding boost.

The Jurassic Coast of Dorset and East Devon has been selected as one of 15 areas awarded a share of government funding to help meet the challenges of rising sea levels and coastal erosion posed by climate change.

Dorset County Council, in partnership with Devon County Council and a range of other partners under the banner of the Jurassic Coast World Heritage Site, has successfully bid for a $376,500 portion of the Department for Environment, Food and Rural Affairs' (Defra) Coastal Change Pathfinder Fund.

The authorities have identified six of the coastal communities most vulnerable to environmental change along the Jurassic Coast that will benefit from the fund. Charmouth and Seatown have been named alongside Swanage, Ringstead, Preston Beach Road, Weymouth and Sidmouth.

The money will be used to support a range of

by Tom Glover

activities aimed at helping coastal communities along the Jurassic Coast to better understand and adapt to the impacts of coastal change.

Suggested projects outlined in the Pathfinder bid include:

- Developing a range of site-specific coastal change scenarios to encourage discussion and a deeper understanding of the issues and to help form strategies and contingency plans to respond to future events;
- A range of high quality visual media to illustrate the extent of past coastal change and potential future change, including dedicated web pages at the Jurassic Coast website: www.jurassiccoast.com;
- Developing a 'coastal change champions' network of community leaders to stimulate and shape debate around coastal change at a local level;

- Developing a training programme for a network of coastal change facilitators, drawn from planning officers and community development workers, to carry out specialist discussion around coastal change and responses to it;
- A major conference in 2011 to spread best practice and promote communication between communities.

Hilary Cox, Dorset County Council cabinet member for environment, said: "We are delighted that our bid has been successful. The coastal communities of Dorset and East Devon have lived with dynamic change for generations but it is clear that the risks and impacts from erosion, storms and rising sea levels are going to increase in future

"The Pathfinder funding will help take the future discussions we are having with the communities most at risk from these changes to a new level, helping us to visualise what change may look like and develop options to adapt."

Aim to boost trade with new tourism brochure

A NEW tourism brochure for Lyme Regis has been released this week, hoping to boost the town's economy in 2010.

The 2010 brochure, designed by Lyme Regis Town Council's Tourism and Advertising Sub-Committee, includes information on Lyme's World Heritage Site status, the town's history, fossils, artistic influences, attractions and events, as well as detailed accommodation listings and photographs by award-winning local photographer Richard Austin.

The brochure has been distributed nationally but is available locally at Lyme Regis Tourist Information Centre.

Councillor questions 'conflict of interests'

COUNCILLOR Lorna Jenkin has questioned why members of the Woodmead Halls Management Committee are able to comment on funding of the Marine Theatre, as they have "conflicting interests".

At the recent Lyme Regis Town Council meeting, Councillor Jenkin said: "As the Woodmead Halls is now a venue for theatrical events, councillors who are also members of the halls' management committee must have conflicting interests and therefore should not comment on the Marine Theatre."

Councillor Stan Williams, who is chairman of the Woodmead Halls Management Committee, said he had spoken to the chairman of the LymeArts Community Trust, which runs the Marine Theatre, and they had agreed the two venues "complement one another."

He added: "We work solely for local organisations. Everything we do is to help the local community and charities. I think this is a nasty comment to make and an attack on the Woodmead Halls that is totally unjust."

The dispute came after Councillor Williams made comments at a Policy Committee meeting, when it was decided a further £32,000 of the council's money would be given to theatre next year.

Lyme RNLI shop success

THE RNLI shop in Lyme Regis has come out on top for the second year running, achieving a higher turnover than over 30 lifeboat charity shops across the South West.

Throughout the whole country, Lyme's small shop came in fifth place, just below Southend on Sea and beating the bigger towns of Looe, Exmouth, Weymouth and Swanage.

Takings for the shop, situated at the Lifeboat Station on the Cobb, were £96,476 this year despite being closed down for a month at the beginning of the year for refurbishment.

Manager Alix Fairley said: "This is all thanks to the incredible work done by our volunteers – some 40 men and women – who keep the shop open

TOP OF THE SHOPS: Alix Fairley, outgoing manager of Lyme's RNLI shop, which has been named the fifth best in the country, serves another satisfied customer.

for most of the year."
Mrs Fairley has been a volunteer at the shop since March 2005 and took over as manager in November 2007. She will be leaving at the end of the year to become manager of Lyme Regis Museum and volunteer Brian Cursley will be taking her place, assisted by Janet Clayton, who will be responsible for the shop

Thanks from Santa's Sleigh

■ THROUGH your paper express my sincere thanks to the people of Lyme Regis for helping us to raise £ 601.40 for The Weldmar Hospicecare Trust. The sleigh route has again brought a smile to faces young and old, and also raised a great sum of money, to a very worthwhile cause. This year we achieved the highest collection for nine years.

There were new lights and equipment that were needed this year, which amounted to a considerable amount of money, and I would like to personally thank the main sponsors of the sleigh this year: Mr Gary Ĝibbs (Coastal Gardens), Mr Owen Lovell (Lucerne Guest House) and Lyme Regis Regatta And Carnival. Also a special thank you to John Broome to use their trailer, after our original trailer had become unavailable.

As in previous years, the continued support of the following people is also much appreciated: D & J Mew Developments Ltd and Mr Dave Ostler for the use of their vehicles, Simon Emmett, Kate and Lucie Wootton, The Karizma Majorettes for the loan of their music system

And finally of course my family.

May I thank all of the people of Lyme Regis for their continued support of the sleigh. and I wish you all a merry Christ-

Neville Causley (organiser of The Lyme Regis Charity Santa Sleigh)

Santa pops in to see the toddlers

Christmas at their recent Parent and Toddler Group session in the Church Hall.

Father Christmas (aka Alan Vian) met the children and gave them each a special present. The tots also enjoyed playing games and dressing up in festive costumes for their last session before the holidays

The Parent and Toddler Group would like to thank Mr Vian, as well as the Regatta and Carnival Committee for their £100 donation. Thanks also go to the Street family who donated £100 of funds raised at their five-a-side football tournament in the summer towards the group's arts and crafts activities.

Lyme Regis Parent and Toddler Group will reform in the New Year, meeting every Wednesday morning from 9.30am to 12pm. New members are always welcome.

■ LYME Regis Museum staff and supporters opened their winter exhibition "Sheds of Lyme" with a party on Thursday evening. The exhibition includes photographs of unusual and different types of sheds around Lyme, from beach huts to allotments, cricket pavilions to cattle byres. The display also includes a model version of the old Lyme railway buildings, miniature wooden bathing machines and a shed donated by Otter Nurseries Garden Centre in Devon

Following the exhibition opening, supporters enjoyed a talk on "The History of the Beach Hut" by Dr Kathryn Ferry in the Guildhall. The exhibition will be open until March and the museum will be open everyday over the festive season except for Christmas Eve and Christmas Day. There will also be a Christmas holiday family fun day with lots of arts and crafts for children to enjoy in the museum on Wednesday, December 30th from 11am

Curator Mary Godwin is pictured at the opening of the exhibition with Ken Gollop and Mike and Winnie Donno who helped to collate the material.

I'm still a Conservative

that I have left the Conservative Party and joined UKIP. I would be grateful for the chance to make it clear in your columns that this story is a baseless rumour.

Having been Chairman of Lyme Regis Conservatives in the past – and also a member of the management team of the West Dorset Conservative Association - I would like everyone to know that I am still a paid-up Conservative Party member, and not a member of any other party.

I strongly believe, as do the vast major ity of Conservatives, that the UK should remain self-governing and should remain a democratic country. We share this belief not only with UKIP but also with the majority of the British people. But, sadly, not with the majority of today's self-serving

When the next General Election comes, millions will vote for the minor parties. But we all know that when the counting is done, the next Prime Minister can only be either Gordon Brown or David Cameron. I don't like David Cameron and I don't dislike him either. The fact is I don't know who David Cameron is. And I suspect we will not find out who he is until after he moves into No.10 Downing Street. But we all know only too well who Gordon Brown is. That is why I am, and will remain, a Conservative supporter.

Minor Repairs to Complete Roof

How do I choose a roofing contractor?

One of the best places to start looking is in the NFRC (National Federation of Roofing Contractors) Directory which lists proven property professionals from all over the UK. Always make sure the roofing contractor you hire is registered.

Weeding out the cowboys, or how to spot a dishonest contractor.

It is every homeowner's nightmare. Hiring a contractor that seemed capable on first impression, only to have them make a mess of your beautiful home through lack of skill! Luckily, your best protection against this disappointment is good old fashioned word of mouth. Ask friends, family or neighbours for recommendations (or warnings!) regarding local contractors. Ask them if the work was completed to schedule and within budget. Also, you can ask the prospective contractor for a portfolio of references and photos of their work. Any good contractor will be happy to show you these. If they're not, it's probably best to look elsewhere.

What to look out for

Lead Works

Slating & Tiling

- · Commonly used 'sales pitches': Anything that sounds too good to be true usually is. Be especially aware of very low initial estimates.
- · Door knockers: never hire a contractor who offers their services door to door.

Plastic Fascias & Soffits

Gutter Repairs & New

- · Pointing out fictional problems: View descriptions of awful or very complicated problems with suspicion. If you can't easily find out about it online, it's probably not true.
- "It's urgent!": Undue stress of this point is always a bad sign. An honest contractor will not pressure you into making a decision.

Pricing and costs

Pricing for roofing jobs depends on the extent and complexity of the job and on the materials used. For example, imported slate is very expensive, but locally sourced slate can be more economical, and manufactured slating, like fibre cement, can be cheaper still. No matter which roofing material you choose, always consider written quotes (never verbal!) before settling on a roofing contractor. Most professionals will produce a quote within 2 or 3 days.

Questions to ask your roofing contractor

1. Are you a registered Trade Member?

in a national trade association, such as the NFRC.

2. Does the company carry insurance?

Workers compensation and liability insurance to be specific. If a worker is hurt and the roofing contractor does not have insurance the home owner is liable. 6. Does your roofer have an NVQ or are accept the roofing contractor at their word. They may carry health, life and car insurance. Bland assurances of insurance coverage may refer to these. (Does your roofer's insurance cover him if he is not qualified)?

3. What is the company's workmanship warranty?

Some warranties are for one year, some are longer. The length of a roofing contractors warranty is not really as important as customer referrals. Most workmanship errors will be found within the first year, probably the first good storm. The reason this question is important is most roofing contractors will warranty the workmanship, and the manufacturer will warranty the product as long as it is installed correctly. Make sure you understand warranties.

4. Does your roofer carry out risk assessments and method statements for each job by a qualified site supervisor? What is a risk assessment?

- A, Identify the hazard.
- We recommend that your contractor be registered B, Decide who might be harmed and how.
  - C, Evaluate the risk and decide on precautions
  - D, Record your findings and record them
  - E, Review your assessment and update if necessary

5. Is your roofer trained to work at heights?

Ask to have current certificates sent to you. Do not trained/approved in the job to be carried out.

What is and is not allowed on the seafront should become clearer

ing the future of concessions on the seafront and beach areas.

Concessions including the controversial stone balancing have, in recent years, caused confusion amongst the council about what is and is not allowed on the seafront. However, the town clerk Mike Lewis is currently writing a report entitled "The Future of Seafront/Beach Concessions 2010 onwards", which will lay down definitive rules

Councillors discussed the report at the recent Policy Committee meeting, where Councillor Ken Hitchcock expressed concern about the condition of the beach where the bouncy castle is sited during summer.

The committee agreed to advertise to those interested in operating an "amusement activity" on the site, but another bouncy castle will not be considered in the future

Councillors also discussed including two deckchairs from the deckchair concession in every council-owned beach hut. Councillor Peter Williams suggested buying "director style" chairs to include in the beach huts, and Councillor Lucy Campbell suggested branding deckchairs from the current concession so they were identifiable from the rest of the stock.

The committee struggled to reach a decision and decided to discuss the matter further when prices for different types of chairs were avail-

Councillor Williams said: "I find it astonish ing that the majority of this council are happy to let out our beach huts with no seating

He claimed that staff at Rinky Tinks Ice Cream Parlour on the Cart Road, who let out the buts had been asked by customers for their money back and had found potential customers lost interest in the huts when they realised they Councillor Williams added: "What must they be telling their friends about Lyme Regis? This is a holiday resort and a successful holiday resort depends on satisfied returning customers.

The council agreed to advertise tenders for the deckchair concession and the skiff hire for three-year periods, and tenders for the hair braiding concession for a one-year period. Members also requested that the area for hair braiding in the Marine Parade shelters be clearly marked and enforced by the council's enforcement officer.

Councillors Peter and Stan Williams also expressed concerns that the stone balancing concession, run by artist Adrian Gray, displayed photographs for sale along the Cart Road over the past two summers. The committee agreed this was an enforcement issue and the enforcement officer would be asked to pay particular attention to it in the summer.

Town Band's Christmas concert

CHRISTMAS in Lyme Regis got well and truly in the groove at the Woodmead Halls with a packed audience for Lyme Regis Town Band's annual Christmas Concert.

The band, under the baton of musical director John Powell, played a selection of carols, seasonal music and popular numbers, ranging from "Winter Wonderland" to Wham's "Wake Me Up Before You Go Go".

Solos were performed by band chairman Jan Long and John Warr.

by Philip Evans

The evening was compered by local entertainer Roy Wootton who also sang a selection of popular numbers, including Frank Sinatra's "Fly Me To The Moon", accompanied by Rob Cross on the guitar.

During the evening the Gordon Broom Memorial Shield for the band member contributing most during the year was presented to former chairman Valerie Mahoney.

Mr Broom was a founder member of the town band and the shield was presented by his youngest son, Stuart.

Among those present were the Deputy Mayor of Lyme Regis, Councillor Owen Lovell.

A raffle was organised by Annabelle and Sophie Warr, daughters of band member John Warr and secretary Gillian Warr.

Mince pies were served during the interval.

Poetry for Pleasure

"THERE were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night. And, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone around them: and they were sore afraid

And the angel said unto them, Fear not, for behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day in the city of David, a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord"

from St.Luke

THAT all happened two thousand years ago, but imagine, as the New York poet, Nicholas Gordon has done in this poem, that it happens again – now!

If All Were Now as it was When

If all were now as it was when Christ came to save us all, And Christmas Day were Christmas Day, Not some day we recall:

And in the East we saw a star Exceptionally bright, And wondered what was going on That ordinary night;

If God were walking in our midst, Saying what He said, And we were not His followers, But trod where He would tread;

And we were witness to His word And looked Him in the eye, And found His message interesting But too bizarre to buy;

If we were in Jerusalem And watched Him bear the cross, And suffered with His suffering But feared to share His loss;

And saw Him die in agony, And wondered at it all, And this were something we ourselves,

by Frank McGarry

Not printed books, recall:

What would be the difference, Had we known Him that way, Between the faith we feared to feel And what we fear today?

THE American clergyman, Phillips Brooks (1835-1893), was famous for writing the words to the hymn "O, little town of Bethlehem" that begins like this:

O little town of Bethlehem, How still we see thee lie! Above thy deep and dreamless sleep The silent stars go by; Yet in thy dark streets shineth The everlasting Light; The hopes and fears of all the years Are met in thee to-night.

O morning stars, together Proclaim the holy birth! And praises sing to God the King, And peace to men on earth. For Christ is born of Mary, And gathered all above, While mortals sleep, the angels keep Their watch of wondering love.

He also gave us this little Christmas poem.

Christmas Everywhere

Everywhere, everywhere, Christmas tonight!
Christmas in lands of the fir-tree and pine,
Christmas in lands of the palm-tree and vine,
Christmas where snow peaks stand solemn and white,
Christmas where cornfields stand sunny and bright.
Christmas where children are hopeful and gay,
Christmas where old men are patient and gray,
Christmas where peace, like a dove in his flight,
Broods o'er brave men in the thick of the fight;
Everywhere, everywhere, Christmas tonight!

For the Christ-child who comes is the Master of all; No palace too great, no cottage too small.

Enjoying being back in the old routine!

N my "Summertime in Lyme" column I wrote that summer was definitely my favourite time of year, but when it comes to December I can't help but love the festive season too.

With a three-week break from my journalism degree in Southampton, I've come home to help out dad on the paper. Everyone I photograph tells me I deserve a break, but to be honest, I quite enjoy playing my part in all the Christmas events around town (and dad says university is enough of a "doss" anyway!).

Unfortunately, I couldn't make it home for one of my favourite annual events – the big switch-on of the town's Christmas lights. I was disappointed to find they don't even have a proper Christmas lights display in Southampton, so I couldn't wait to come home and see Lyme's.

It's a shame the weather was so wet and windy for the switch-on and has caused a few technical problems with the lights (I hear the tree almost went up in sparks!), but on my first visit to Broad Street I was totally impressed with the decorations.

Congratulations go to Barbara Austin and her Christmas Lights Committee for all their hard work throughout the year – the weather may not be the best but the town looks brilliant.

I also have to say well done to the Regatta and Carnival Committee for organising another successful Christmas Tree Festival. With 30 sparkling trees filling the Baptist Church, each uniquely decorated by a different local organisation, the event could have put Scrooge in the festive spirit!

I kicked off my festive celebrations at the Over 70s Christmas Dinner in the Alexandra Hotel. There aren't many 20-year-olds who can say they've done the same, but as dad wrote in his column last week, it's a lovely community event and I spent the whole afternoon there, enjoying a buffet with the committee when all the quests had gone home.

Since then, my diary has been full of nativities, festive parties and end-of-term school events. I've met at least three Father Christmases and I'm almost Christmas-ed out!

I'll still be enjoying a traditional holiday at home and am looking forward to my big brother Darren visiting from London and a little festive, friendly competition when the Evans family takes to the skittle alley on Christmas Eve.

To get you in the spirit, the Rotary Club of Lyme Regis invites everyone to take part in the Christmas Carols around the Tree, beginning at 7pm tonight (Wednesday) at the bottom of Broad Street. Lyme Regis Town Band will accompany the carols and hot soup and chestnuts will be on offer.

The annual Christmas Day Swim in aid of the RNLI will be held at Charmouth Beach at 10.30am, but if you can't tear yourself away from your presents, you can always take a dip in the sea as part of the Rotary Club's fancy dress Lyme Lunge on New Year's Day. The event will start at 1pm on Lyme's main sandy beach, all in aid of Shelterbox and Water Survival – a great way to wash away that New Year's hangover.

If you'd rather watch than be in the water, pop along to the New Year's Day duck race in aid of next year's Christmas lights. Town crier Phil Street will start the race at 12 noon from the Woodmead Road Bridge.

Whatever you get up to, I wish all our View from Lyme Regis readers a very merry Christmas and a happy New Year!

Wow! What a year we have had at McKinlays

he year started with so much uncertainty with the housing market in chaos, but it has slowly been recovering, with growing confidence in the market throughout the year. The majority of the houses on our books have been selling quickly, with an abundance of buyers waiting to snap up their perfect property.

We are a small family run business but with a big welcome to all of our customers. We pride ourselves on the customer care we offer, which is validated by over 50% of our business coming from recommendation.

"You are worth your weight in gold and we will not hesitate to recommend you in the fu-

Our "efficient, friendly and helpful" service is particularly appreciated by those who are perhaps downsizing after many years in their family home and by first time buyers who have not experienced the buying process.

In addition to selling houses, we are also very good at raising money! This year we have raised an incredible £10,000 for Hosipiscare in Axminster, thanks to the overwhelming support at all of our events. Local businesses have been very supportive with substantial donations from Beviss and Beckingsale and Axe Skip Hire. More recently Scott Rowe has be our charity of the year for 2010 as well. We helped us with a Christmas draw where the top prize of a luxury hamper from Millers Farm Shop won by Lillian Tucker.

Our largest fund raiser was "One Night Only" and what a night it was! I finally got to see a DVD of the show about 2 weeks ago and now I can see why everybody had such a fantastic evening. I would like to thank everyone involved for all their time, effort and support at this event. We have presented a cheque to Hospiscare for £6,000 from the proceeds of One Night Only, which is amazing. The total is still rising thanks to donations and from DVD sales, which are still available from the office along with brochures of the evening. Also photos of the event can still be viewed purchased on www.4onenightonly.com

We are pleased to report that Hospiscare will have several ideas to help raise money for this fantastic charity so please keep an eye on the shop window and on the website.

So if you are looking to sell your house in the New Year, please give us a call on 01297 631199 or call into the office and have a cup of tea or coffee and discuss our competitive and friendly no-pressure service. Alternatively, if you are thinking of buying pop in for a chat, where again we offer a no-pressure "only selling houses" service. Or if you are looking to let a property or have a property to let, visit Harris Lets which is based in the same

Wishing you all a Happy Christmas and a Prosperous New Year.

The plot itself is seemingly under wraps but we do know that John Simm returns as The Master, as does The Doctor's old companion, Donna (Catherine Tate), along with her

Who fans can catch the first part of 'The End of Time' on Christmas Dav at 6pm, with the second and final part going out on New Year's Day at 6:40pm.

In fact, David Tenant seems to be overtaking the Beeb this Christmas. You can catch him in a special Christmas edition of QI on Christmas Eve (BBC1, 10pm) and on Boxing Day in the leading role of the Royal Shakespeare Company's celebrated production of Hamlet (BBC2, 5:05pm).

JUST FOR LAUGHS

LONG gone are the days when you could always look forward to Christmas with the Trotters, and the Beeb has struggled to find a replacement for Only Fools and Horses in the comedy department.

Although not a Christmas special as such, this year the focus is on Gavin and Stacey. Rumour has it this third season - which concludes over the festive period - will be the last.

You can catch the final two episodes on Christmas Day (BBC1, 10pm) and New Year's Day (BBC1, 9pm) respectively. Another modern favourite is Outnumbered, starring Hugh Dennis and Claire Skinner alongside three remarkably good child actors. If you've never caught it before, the Christmas Special (December 27th, BBC1, 10:30pm) will be a good

Personally, when it comes to Christmas comedy, I'm looking forward to Victoria Wood's long overdue return to our

Victoria Wood's Midlife Christmas (Christmas Eve, BBC1, 9pm) sees her spoof the likes of Lark Rise To Candleford and Cranford in 'Lark Pies To Cranchesterford,' and take off Alan Sugar's sidekick Margaret Mountford in a send-up of The Ap-

And 'Acorn Antiques' fans won't want to miss Julie Walters as Bo Beaumont, the self-important actress who played Mrs Overall in the wonderful soap opera parody.

Catherine Tate has become a Christmas staple in more recent years. Her take - or rather her character Nan's take - on Charles Dickens' A Christmas Carol is broadcast Christmas Day (BBC1, 10:30pm). Her Doctor Who co-star David Tenant (not him, again?!!) is among those making guest appearances.

Of course, Christmas wouldn't be Christmas without Morecambe and Wise. We all moan when the Beeb drag out the repeats but we still watch them

You can catch Eric and Ernie's 1973 Christmas Special - again - on Boxing Day (BBC2, 9:10pm).

And you can also watch Ant and Dec trying to emulate the duo with their own Christmas show earlier the same evening (ITV1, 7:30pm).

DRAMA

AS FOR drama, well, if you can watch it with a straight face having seen Victoria Wood's send-up, the second of a two9pm). Judi Dench, Imelda Staunton and Jonathan Pryce star

ITV serves up the long overdue sequel to the ground breaking The Naked Civil Servant on Christmas Bank Holiday Monday

John Hurt returns as Quentin Crisp in An Englishman In New York (ITV1, 9pm). Sex and the City's Cynthia Nixon costars in this one-off play, picking up from where the original 1975 production left off. David Suchet is back as Agatha Christie's Hercule Poirot on Christmas Day (ITV1, 9pm) in 'Appointment With Death'. Remarkably, Suchet has only ten more Poirot stories to film, having now made 61 with ITV since 1989!

CLASSIC CHRISTMAS

WHAT I look forward to the most at Christmas is the BBC's ghost story offering.

This tradition, which has recently been revived, goes back to the 1970s; each year a different tale - usually adapted from one of M.R. James' short stories - would terrify audi-ences and act as the perfect antidote to seasonal over-in-

Last year we had Mark Gatiss' frankly brilliant Crooked House; 2009 brings us a more traditional offering in an adaptation of The Turn Of The Screw (December 30th, BBC1, 9pm). Starring Michelle Dochery, this chilling story is set in a remote country house, where a governess is spooked by the apparitions of two children.

FUN FOR ALL THE FAMILY

MYTOP choice for a show that can be enjoyed by all the family is The Gruffalo (Christmas Day, BBC1, 5:30pm).

This animated adaptation of the children's bestseller, which tells the story of a mouse's epic journey through a forest, features the voices of Robbie Coltrane, Helena Bonham Carter, Rob Brydon, Tom Wilkinson and John Hurt.

BEST OF THE REST

FOR the petrolheads amongst you, or those that simply love watching three grown men acting like schoolboys, there's another modern Christmas tradition on offer - the Top Geal Christmas Special

This year Jeremy, Richard and James are off to Bolivia, with the challenge of driving some old bangers through the heart of the Amazon jungle to the coast of Chile. Find out how they got on by tuning in on December 27th (BBC2,

Although the Beeb saw fit to scrap Top of the Pops a few years back, it's Christmas guise is still going strong. In fact, BBC1 has two seasonal TOTP specials: one on

Christmas Day (2pm) and another on New Year's Eve

(6:30pm), both hosted by Fearne Cotton and Reggie Yates. Sci-fi fans should make a date with the Beeb's updated take on John Wyndham's classic tale The Day of the Triffids showing in two parts on Christmas Bank Holiday Monday and concluding on Tuesday 29th (both BBC1, 9pm).

CHRISTMAS TV PREVIEW with James Coles

FILMS

SINCE the advent of the DVD and satellite television, the big Christmas movie premiere hasn't had the same status. Chances are vou've already seen it.

Chances are you ve aiready seen it.

Even so, kids and adults alike may warm to Pixar favourite

The Incredibles (Christmas Day, BBC1, 3:10pm) or, alternatively, Happy Feet (Christmas Day, ITV1, 3:40pm).

And whether you're a Johnny Depp lady or a Keira Knight-ley man, you'll find yourself at home with Pirates of the Caribbean: At World's End (Boxing Day, BBC1, 7:30pm). And this particular episode can boast Keith Richards as Captain Jack Sparrow's father!

MY CHOICE
MY NUMBER one choice for essential viewing this Christmas is the Orson Welles season on BBC4. If you're any sort of film buff, you'll love this series of programmes devoted to possibly the greatest innovator in the history of cinema.

Director, writer, actor, producer - Orson did it all, and was equally at home in film, theatre, TV and radio. Highlights of the season include actor and Welles biographer Simon Callow's exploration of Orson's time outside of Hollywood in Orson Welles Over Europe (December 27th, 9:30pm) and a rerun of Alan Yentob's extraordinary two-part 1982 Arena pro-file of the great man (Part 1: Christmas Day, 9pm; Part 2: December 27th, 11pm).

There are five classic Orson movies being screened too: Citizen Kane (Christmas Day, 7pm), Journey Into Fear (Christmas Day, 10:50pm), The Third Man (Boxing Day, 7:15pm), The Magnificent Ambersons (December 27th, 8pm) and The Stranger (December 27th, 11:55pm).

So, whether you're looking for something old or new, this year's Christmas telly really does have something for everyone. By James Coles

Christmas Facts

- THE common abbreviation for Christmas to Xmas is derived from the Greek alphabet. X is letter Chi, which is the first letter of Christ's name in the Greek alphabet.
- OLIVER Cromwell, banned Christmas carols in England between 1649 and 1660. Cromwell thought that Christmas should be a very solemn day so he banned carols and parties. The only celebration was a sermon and a prayer service.
- THE Puritans in America tried to make Thanksgiving Day the most important annual festival instead of Christmas.
- SILENT Night was written in 1818, by an Austrian priest called Joseph Mohr. He was told the day before Christmas that the church organ was broken and would not be repaired in time for Christmas Eve. He was saddened by this and could not contemplate Christmas without music, so he wrote a carol that could be sung by choir to guitar music. He sat down and wrote three stanzas. Later that night the people in the little Austrian church sang "Stille Nacht" for the first time.
- ST Francis of Assisi introduced Christmas carols to formal church services.
- Telesphorus, the second Bishop of Rome (125-136 AD) declared that public church services should be held to celebrate 'The Nativity of our Lord and Saviour.' In 320 AD, Pope Julius I and other religious leaders specified December 25th as the official date of the birth of Jesus Christ.

■ DECEMBER 26th was traditionally known as St Stephen's Day, but is more commonly known as Boxing Day. This expression came about because money was collected in alms-boxes placed in churches during the festive season. The money was then distributed to the poor and needy after Christmas.

■ MELBOURNE, Australia has a sporting Boxing Day tradition. The Melbourne Cricket Ground hosts a Cricket test match. Sometimes this attracts 90, 000 spectators. Cricket is Australia's premier Summer sport.

- THE first printed reference to Christmas trees appeared in Germany in 1531
- IN 1836, Alabama was the first state in the USA to declare Christmas a legal holiday.
- IN 1843, the first Christmas card was printed in England for Sir Henry Cole. He was a busy man who wanted to save time in his own Christmas letters, but was also interested in encouraging the expansion of the postal system. A thousand copies of the card were sold at one shilling each. It was not until the 1860s that the production of cards accelerated, with cheaper printing methods. Then in 1870, the Post Office introduced a half penny stamp for sending cards.
- AT midnight on Christmas Eve in 1914 firing from the German trenches during the First World War suddenly stopped. A German brass band began playing Christmas carols. Early, on Christmas morning, the German soldiers came out of their trenches, approaching the allied lines, calling "Merry Christmas". At first the allied soldiers thought it was a trick. but they soon climbed out of their trenches and shook hands with the German soldiers. The truce lasted a few days, and the men exchanged presents of cigarettes and plum puddings, sang carols and songs. They even played

- IN 1937, the first postage stamp to commemorate Christmas was issued in Austria
- The actual gift givers are different in various countries:
- Spain and South America: The Three Kings
- Italy: La Befana (a kindly old witch)
- England: Father Christmas
- France: Pere Noel (Father Christmas)
- Russia: In some parts Babouschka (a grandmotherly figure); in other parts Grandfather Frost.
- Germany: Christkind (angelic messenger from Jesus) She is a beautiful fair haired girl with a shining crown of candles.
- Scandinavia: a variety of Christmas gnomes. One is called Julenisse
- Holland: St Nicholas
- IN 1834, Queen Victoria's husband, Prince Albert brought the first Christmas tree to Windsor Castle for the Royal family.
  - IN 1856, President Franklin Pierce decorates the first White House Christmas tree.
  - IN 1907, Oklahoma became the last USA state to declare Christmas a legal holiday.
  - Every year since 1947 the people in Oslo have given a Christmas tree to the city of Westminster. The gift is an expression of goodwill and gratitude for Britain's help to Norway in the 1939-1945 war.
    - THE first American Christmas carol was written in 1649 by a minister named John de Brebeur and is called "Jesus is Born".
      - MEXICANS call the poinsettia "Flower of the Holy Night" - the Holy Night is the Mexican way of saying Christmas Eve.
        - TOM Smith who owned a sweet shop in London was the originator of the cracker. In the 1840s Tom found that people
          - liked sugar almonds, but while he was in France he discovered a variety of sweets wrapped up in a twist of paper.
          - These bonbons were popular, so Tom decided to copy them.
            When Tom noticed that young men were buying them to give to their sweethearts he began to place "love mottoes" on small slips of paper inside the sweet wrapping.

In 1846 Tom's thoughts turned towards Christmas - instead of sweets he thought he would place toys and novelties inside the twisted wrapping. He experimented with this and came up with the idea of producing a wrapping that could be pulled apart - the cracker as we know it

- THE word carol is derived from the old French word caroller which derives from the Latin choraula. This itself was derived from the Greek choraules
- THE biggest selling Christmas single of all time is Bing Crosby's White Christmas.
- A GOOSE was customary Christmas fare until Henry VIII took it upon himself to tuck into a turkey. Mince pies were once shaped like mangers and are thought to date back to the sweetmeats formerly presented to the Vatica
- HANGING the Christmas stocking on the hearth on Christmas Eve in the hope that it will be filled with presents the next morning is a custom that goes back about 400 years.

It derived from the custom in Holland of children placing wooden shoes next to the hearth the night before the arrival of St. Nicholas. The children would fill their shoes with straw and food for St Nicholas's for the donkey that carried the gifts. In exchange he would leave them a small gift such as small cakes, fruits and other gifts. Stockings were substituted for the shoes in Britain, most of Europe and in North America.

■ A WREATH with holly, red berries and other decorations began from at least the 17th century. Holly, with its sharply pointed leaves, symbolised the thorns in Christ's crown-of-thorns. Red berries symbolised the drops of Christ's blood. A wreath at Christmas signified a home that celebrated to birth of Christ.

weight because that's a good size to handle, feeds about 10 to 14 people and has better flavour than bigger birds. If you're buying from a small producer, like the lovely turkey I used from my mate Paul Kelly, you'll often find these birds come with their own cooking instructions. Really good-quality birds do cook in a shorter time so follow the instructions if it has

This year I'm using a flavoured butter to give a bit of extra love to my turkey, and this is a job you can do the day before. You can find my recipe in the Christmas issue of Jamie Magazine or simply make your own . Get your turkey and use a spoon to work your way between the skin and the meat. Start at the side of the cavity gently up towards the breastbone and towards the back so you create a large cavity. Pick up half of your butter and push it into the cavity you've created. Use your hands to push it through the skin right to the back so it coats the breast meat as evenly as possible. Do the same on the other side then rub any leftover butter all over the outside of the bird to use it gas 4. up. If you've got any herb stalks left over, put them in the cavity of the turkey for added flavour as it cooks. Cover the turkey in cling film and keep in the fridge until you need it. Take your turkey out of the fridge a few hours be-fore you are ready to put it in the oven so it has time to come up to room temperature. That flavoured butter will already be under the skin so you'll only need a few tweaks to finish it off. Halve 2 to 4 clementines and pop them in the cavity with a few more sprigs of fresh herbs like rosemary, bay and thyme. The fruit will steam and flavour the birds in a really lovely way. Take a sprig of fresh rosemary, pull off the leaves at the bottom then spear that through the loose skin around the cavity to hold it together and keep it from shrinking back as the turkey

Open up the neck cavity and pack as much stuffing as possible in there, then carefully pull the skin back over the cavity, tuck it

If you are at all worried just stick a meat are so many variables such thermometer in the thickas the sort of oven you have est part of the breast. When and the quality of your bird. ### VICTORIA WOOD'S MIDLIFE CHRISTMAS

BBC1, 9pm

She may have picked up a Bafta for her sensitive performance in the insightful drama Housewife, 49 but some Victoria Wood fans were secretly thinking: "This is great, but when are you going to get back to putting on silly accents and hamming it up with Julie Walters?" Well, their prayers have now been answered, as Wood returns to the BBC for her first Christmas sketch show special since All the Trimmings nine years ago. We're promised mock commercials, dance numbers, unlikely sporting events, and the continuing adventures of soap star Bo Beaumont.

THE DAY OF THE TRIFFIDS BBC1, 9pm

In the not-too-distant future, humanity's search for a renewable energy source has led to the discovery of triffids, a crop that can be grown for fuel. When spectators gather all over the world for a much-anticipated solar storm, billions of unsuspecting people are left blinded and those fortunate enough to have their sight can do little but watch as society begins to collapse into chaos. Meanwhile, the same event appears to have bestowed the plants with a life of their own - along with a taste for human flesh. The conclusion can be seen tomorrow at 9pm. Apocalyptic drama, starring Dougray Scott.

Henry James's classic novella has been adapted for the small screen. Michelle Dockery heads the cast as Ann, a governess who takes charge of two orphans living in the country house of their emotionally distant uncle. At first, she bonds with the children and their loyal housekeeper; their lives seem idyllic. But then Ann begins seeing two mysterious figures on the estate, which may or may not be the ghosts of two former servants who died in myserious circumstances — and whose presence has a disturbing effect on the young and impressionable governess. Sue Johnston and Corin Redgrave also star.

JOOLS' ANNUAL HOOTENANNY 2009

BBC2, 11pm

There's only one place to be on New Year's Eve and that's in front of the box watching Jools and his various musical guests as they say hello to 2010 in style. Why bother spending vast amounts of cash seeing the New Year in with drunken revellers in your local boozer, when you can relax in the company of Jools and friends and listen to some decent music? As always, the new decade will be brought in by the pipes and drums of the 1st Battalion of The Scots Guards. Featuring performances by Tom Jones, Boy George, Dizzee Rascal, Roger Daltrey and Lily Allen.

6.30 Regional Programmes. 6.30 Top of the Pops New Year's Eve 2009. Featuring Robbie Williams, Alexandra Burke and Muse.

DOCTOR WHO BBC1, 6.40pm

Well, it's here at last - the last-ever episode of David Tennant's Tardis tenure. It's also, of course, the final script written by Russell T Davies. As anybody who tuned into Christmas Day's episode will already know, the Master is back - and he's even more bonkers than ever before. An ancient trap is also closing around the Earth. Only the Doctor knows how to stop it, and he has help from an unlikely companion — Donna's granddad Wilf. We already know the episode isn't going to end well for the gallivanting Gallifreyan, so get those hankies ready. Bernard Cribbins, John Simm, Timothy Dalton and Catherine Tate also star.

Celebrate the New Year with great offers from Honda

HONDA (UK) has unveiled a series of tempting New Year offers on the outstanding Honda Civic hatchback, setting 2010 off to cracking start.

Customers can save £931 on the sporty three-door Honda Civic 1.4 Type S Manual, which from 1 January has an on-the-road price of £14,495. The high level of standard equipment includes six airbags, 16-inch alloy wheels, powered heated door mirrors, climate control and Alcantara and fabric upholstery.

There's a saving of over £1,000 on the five-door Honda Civic 1.4 Si manual, which costs from just £15,495. The sporty looking Si grade comes with 16-inch alloy wheels, colour-coded body mouldings, sports front grille with fog lamps and a half-leather interior.

This great offer is also available on the Civic 1.8 Si manual, costing just £16,495 – a saving of £1,064.

These are offered with either a two year 0% Hire Purchase agreement with 35% deposit, or a three year 5.9% Personal Contract Plan with low deposit of 10%. Honda finance has proved especially popular this year, with 69 per cent of Honda car customers opting to take advantage of the competitive finance packages.

Tom Gardner, Head of Marketing for Honda (UK) said: "These are outstanding offers for the New Year that can be combined with excellent finance packages to suit individual customers and help spread the payments. We're expecting a great deal of interest."

Rover UK managing director comments: "When conditions become treacherous, there is one manufacturer that the emergency services turn to - Land Rover, For many years, we have provided local police, ambulance services and recovery agencies with the loan of our vehicles to aid their work when faced with poor driving conditions. In fact, the AA's specialist Land Rover fleet have the snow overnight." For more information or to book a test drive, visit vour local Land Rover dealership or log onto: www.landrover.co.uk.

WASTED TRIP FOR BEAMINSTER

Uplyme given raw deal in abandonment?

CONSOLATION: Dan Edwards scored Charmouth goal in rout.

ROUND THREE REPLAY

REAMINSTER were not best pleased to have made the trip to . Wimborne to face Allendale only to find the frozen pitch halfbathed in shadow with no chance of thawing out. Referee Martin Underhay was also shocked not to have been kept informed but was refused his travelling expenses by the hosts. player-manager Paddy Ford confirmed his club would also be claiming back their travelling fees – it will be interesting to see just exactly how the Dorset FA punish Allendale - expulsion maybe?

Should Beaminster progress to the last eight they will be rewarded with a home quarter-final against Ferndown Town on Janu-

JUBILEE CUP FINAL

THE pick of the League XI's match at Somerton against the Yeovil & District League was a casualty of the weekend's frozen pitches.

The match will be re-scheduled for an evening match, possibly at Sherborne, in the New Year.

SOMERSET INTERMEDIATE CUP ROUND THREE

ALL four ties involving PSL teams were postponed and have been re-arranged for January 2nd although the League is requesting to the Somerset FA that Ilminster Colts' tie at Draycott be put back a week due to their involvement in the Division One Cup Final following Forton Rangers expulsion for fielding an ineligible player.

TOMMY TABBERER CUP ROUND ONE

UPLYME were furious that the first round tie at Beaminster Reserves was cancelled by referee Kelvin Day 40 seconds after the hosts had taken a 3-2 lead.

Uplyme's Assistant manager Andy Cleere said: "We felt the pitch was too dangerous to even start the match, but the referee felt it was ok. But for him then to had scored, and the cut-off time of 70 minutes had lapsed, was puzzling."Beaminster stormed into an early 2-0 lead through Chris Park and Dan Hyett before Gavin Fowler pulled one back.

Beaminster's Tommy Record was then showed a straight red card by referee Day for a cynical foul on Adam Neale which left the promising teenager unable to continue, and with no substitutes Uplyme, like The Rainbows played the remainder of the match with Fowler netted his fifth of the season to level things up. Then Pyett grabbed his second and the game was stopped soon after. The two teams await the findings of

BILL BAILEY CUP

HAT-TRICKS for Chris Mathews and James Pitcher gave White Horse Reserves an impressive 8-3 win over cup holders Luso-Chard.

Left-midfielder popped-up at the near post to head home Ashlev Walkev's second minute corner and Horse looked well-set. But a 20 minute sleepy spell let their hosts back in with a chance – and they took it will both hands scoring three times to take control.

However the stable door wasn't bolted and Horse put their wob-bly period behind them to gallop into a half-time 4-3 lead with goals from Mathews and two from Pitcher.

Mathews completed his triple seconds after the restart and cantered home with further strikes from Pitcher, Mathews and Russell Weller who netted for the fourth time in five outings.

REG EGLON CUP QUARTER-FINAL

CHARD United Reserves have a semi-final at Waytown Hounds on January 16th to look forward to after a 2-0 victory over Hawkchurch Reserves on a crispy Jocelyn Park. The Hawks' looked heading for their first away win of the season after defending the slope and heading into the inter-val at 0-0. But Stefan Coombs with his eighth goal of the season and top-scorer Ricky Anderson with his 11th had other ideas.

Top performer for the visitors was Joe Carter in his holding midfield role. The other semi-final will see Thorncombe Reserves entertain cup favourites Farway United Re-

DIVISION ONE

CHARD Rangers gave their Division One survival hopes a boost with a 1-0 win over Thorncombe at Jocelyn Park.

Lee Seymour struck the decisive goal in the 80th minute to land a first win in 10 games for the Rangers who's Man-of-the-Match was James Walpole.

Star man for the Thorns was goalkeeper Nathan Bandy who kept his ex-team mates at bay with some stunning saves.

DIVISION TWO

AFTER a six-week lay-off it was back to business as usual for Millwey Rise who re-established their seven point lead at the top with a comfortable 3-0 win over Chard United at First Avenue.

Goals from Danny Larcombe and Adam Whitehouse gave the Slopers a 2-0 lead at the break. Michael Knight completed the scoring with Chard offering very little threat to the Rise goal. Top performers for Millwey were cen-tral-midfielder Callum Garrett and right-back Haydn Lewis.

A freak goal from Ashley Rose gave him his seventh goal of the campaign and second-placed Norton Athletic all three points at Hinton. Rose scuffed a corner kick along the floor to deceive Saints defenders and goalkeeper alike and creep over the line.

Dowlish & Donyatt ended a run of four home defeats with a 2-0 win over visiting Forton Rangers Reserves. It was goal less at the break but strikes from Andy North and Chris Lang were enough to see the hosts, with Ben Charlton in sparkling form, head into 2010 in third spot.

DIVISION THREE

The match a Unity Lane went with form as Misterton Reserves leapt a place to second after beating Chard Rangers Reserves 4-1.

Missy led 2-0 at the break through Darren House, with his eighth of the season, and Will Brooks - and scored twice more after the interval through Alex Stevenson and Dean Hyet who scored for the fourth game in a row. Tom Brown netted the Rangers' consolation.

DIVISION FOUR

WINSHAM United Reserves are in pole-position heading into the New Year after crushing bottom of the table Charmouth Reserves 9-1 at Bakers Field.

Goals from Vinny Allen and Richard White saw the Winsh 2-0 up at-half time.

The second half saw the goals scattered around between White, Rvan Powell (2), Carl Moore, Henry Broom, Paul Stuart and Rob Long with Dan Edwards on target for the Robins.

The result gave Winsham their biggest win for more than three years when Chard United Reserves were thrashed 10-1.

Promotion chasing Waytown Hounds received a set-back when they were beaten 4-2 at Ilminster Goals from Luke Paul, Josh House and an OG put the hosts firmly in control before Tom Rutland reduced the arrears. House scored his second from the penalty spot to give his side a 4-1 intervál advantage.

There were two more penalties in the second-half - one for each team - and both were saved, House and Matt Read being the unsuccessful men.

Rutland did net his second but Ilminster were worth their points. Farway United Reserves completed a League double with a 30 win at Combe B who failed to find the net for the first time this season. Lewis Grant (2) and Chris Legg were on target for the visi-

It's two in, one out at Weymouth

A BUSY week in the transfer market has seen two in and one out at the View From Stadium.

Former Terras Stephen Reed and Pierre Joseph-Dubois are back at the club while highly-rated striker Jake Reid has departed.

Reed returns to Dorset on a month's loan from Macclesfield where he's failed to make an impact for the League Two outfit.
The former Cambridge United midfielder was a Weymouth player last season but left just before his team mates suffered relegation from the Blue Square Premier following a home defeat against York City.

Striker Jospeh-Dubois, who also turned out for the Terras last term, rejoins on a non-contract basis

Read meanwhile has quit the south coast in favour of Blue Square Premier outfit, Gravs Athletic, and he could be followed by defender David Obaze who is also believed to be interesting

Terras manager Ian Hutchinson said: "Obviously I'm delighted to get Stephen and Pierre in. "Stephen played for Cambridge when our new chairman George Rolls was there and he's played a big part in his return.

"He knows the club and will fit in well, and he has plenty to prove to Macclesfield and we're pleased he'll be doing that here

"Pierre is a lad I've seen a lot of and strong and quick and also knows the club well and will be a good player to have about Both lads are ready for action and would have played against Braintree on Saturday had the game been on. So to strengthen at this busy time of the season is a big bonus for us."

Hutchinson admitted he was disappointed to lose Reid but wished him well at the higher level.

"With Jake going it was important to bring players in," said the manager.

"It's a shame to lose him but I have always said we will not stand in the way of player's progress and we wish him well.

"He's been outstanding over the surprise he's got himself noticed. But with Stephen and Pierre coming in, we should be fine."

Meanwhile the Terras, who were due to face Gillingham last night in the Dorset Senior Cup quarter finals following two previous postpone-ments, were forced to call in former Premiership referee, Paul Durkin, to inspect the View From Stadium surface on Saturday.

The former FA Cup final official had little choice but to call the game off with the pitch frozen with no sign of a thaw. Hutchinson added: "It was disappointing but there was no choice re-ally. We fancied our chances against Braintree having narrowly lost up there but it wasn't to be."

■ FORMER Weymouth boss Matt Hale looks certain to resume his playing career with Yate Town.

The ex-Terras chief had been considering a return to the View From Stadium as a player only after he resigned from the hot seat in October. Hale is a close friend of his successor training with the Avon club and is likely to be available sometime over the festive period.

However, with Hale and his wife execting their first child anytime soon, his Yate debut may be delayed further. Yate boss and former Weymouth star, David Mogg said: "It's a wait and see game with Matt at the moment, but we are hopeful he will be playing ■ WEYMOUTH'S Jake Bryan had the thrill of his life during a family visit to Sheffield recently when the 14-yearold from Westham met his footballing hero Ryan Giggs and a host of other sports stars.

Jake, a big Manchester United supporter, caught up with his hero out-side the Sheffield Arena which played host to the BBC Sports Personality of

Aside from Giggs, he also met cyclist Mark Cavendish, cricketer Andrew Flintoff, Formula 1 world champion Jenson Button and presenter and extennis player, Sue Barker.

Jake explained: "I was up visiting reland I went down to the centre before the show started. We saw all sorts of stars going in and it was amazing.

"Meeting Ryan Giggs was great. he was really friendly and it was fantastic that he actually won the award, but everyone who went in was great. They stopped and chatted, signed autographs and spent time saying hello to

■ YEOVIL Town defender Stefan Stam has met the pupils from his adopted school in Weymouth.

Stam is now linked to Wyke Regis
Junior School through the club's Community Sports Trust's Adopt-a-Player scheme where each school is allocated a member of the first team squad who will visit and interact with pupils over the next season.

Trust manager Adrian Hopper said
"We are delighted to have even stronger links with local schools thanks to the 'Adopt a Player' scheme.

It will give the members of the team an opportunity to get out in the com-munity and allow the pupils to meet their heroes in person.

Armstrong on the move?

JON Armstrong may have ridden his last race for the Wildcats. The prolific points scorer may be forced to quit the club because of work commitments.

Manchester-based Armstrong has been out of action since breaking a leg in May 2008, but hoped to be back fit to lead Weymouth's National League challenge next term.

However, a new job delivering for a print firm in Lancashire means he'll probably have to find a club closer to home.

He explained: "The company I'm working for do a lot of work on Fridays, which is the night Weymouth race. Tuesdays and Fridays are going to be my main days for delivering and so that makes things difficult.

"If I was delivering on Tuesdays and Thursdays it wouldn't be so bad but, although I'm not totally sure of what's happening yet, it looks like Fridays will be

In view of Armstrong's new work schedule, his options are limited with clubs like Plymouth, Isle of Wight, Newport and Bournemouth either racing on Tuesdays and Fridays or having already signed their top riders.

New boys Dudley are an option - one that the rider has already thought about.

"Some of Dudley's meetings will be in Birmingham on a Tuesday," he said, "but it may be I could get someone else to take my equipment to the track and I'll meet them there. It's a thought but we'll have to see

If Armstrong does leave the Wessex Stadium it will leave bosses Phil Bartlett and Jem Dicken with a major headache when it comes to team building.

The Wildcats have already lost the services of Tim Webster and James White-Williams with only Terry Day and James Cockle confirmed starters for 2010.

Meanwhile hopes of enticing Kyle Newman back to Weymouth have been scuppered.

The talented 18-year-old, who was part of the Wildcats' 2008 title winning side, has moved to Newport from Bournemouth.

■ WILDCATS are on the look out for a new main sponsor after Harold Doonan withdrew its support for the National League club.

The building suppliers follow Wessex Buses who pulled out of its stadium sponsorship last month.

Despite the set backs, chairman Phil Bartlett, who last week considered quitting the club himself, is determined to carry on and find new backers before the season starts in April.

He said: "We are a success story and I'm sure there are businesses out there who want to be associated "Losing sponsors is a big blow but we are determined to work even harder now to keep speedway in the town.'

He added: "But for racing to continue we need the town to support us and I'd urge anyone interested in supporting the Wildcats to get in touch with us."

Frustrating trip for Buckler

BOB Buckler suffered a wasted 500 mile round trip on Saturday in a bid to keep The Sawyer's impressive run of form going but was thwarted by the weather.

The Henley trainer had the 9-year-old chestnut gelding entered for both the Graduation Steeplechase over 2 miles 5 ½ furlongs at Ascot and also the Tommy Whittle Handicap Steeplechase over 3 miles at Haydock, both on Saturday. With the cancellation of Ascot on Friday due to snow, Buckler and his team, having checked with the clerk of the course at 6.30am on Saturday that racing was on set off for Cheshire.

"We arrived around 10.30am and walked the course and it was raceable and we were all set to go. However it turned progressively colder as the morning went on, and we had a number of snow showers which weren't scheduled until the evening, and although they had spent £32,000 on covers to ensure racing went ahead, they had no option to cancel it.

We went back around the course later and it was reading between -3 and -5 degrees below freezing. The ground was fences had melted and refrozen making the birch in the jumps as solid as bricks.

"It was totally unraceable and dangerous and they had no option to abandon

The Sawver had shown impressive form in his two races to date this season, finishing second at Cheltenham in the Irish Times Amateur Riders' Handicap Chase, before unseating Will Kennedy at Valentines, three from home, in the Grand Sefton Handicap Chase over the Grand National course at Aintree when he looked favourite to win.

"At least they gave us a good lunch before sending us on our way," quipped

Crank Hill was the stables only runner last week at Exeter and although he trailed in seventh, Buckler was pleased with the horse's effort.

"He's been off for a long time and the race was over 2 miles 3 furlongs so much shorter than his best distance of 3 miles, and so it was natural that they would quicken away from him. However considering he also missed some work with a bad foot, he did stay on and it was a useful run and brought him on a bit. He is now likely to go at Exeter on New Year's Dav."

All the competitors managed to catch some fish, with six of them catching legal fish. Many were rockling, with Oliver Mears managing to catch 16 of the 32 legal fish landed to take first prize, most fish caught and both the heaviest round fish and the smallest fish awards

Craig Horton was second and Connor Hallett third. Reece Taylor caught the heaviest flat fish (flounder 79g) and the last fish, a sea scorpion.

Aiden Dean's corkwing wrasse was the first fish landed, although the one caught by Steven Rathbone (113g) was the heaviest non-legal fish caught. Only one pollock (39g) was caught to land Elliot Joy the most unusual fish award and Jake Preston reluctantly claimed the wooden spoon. Prizes were donated by The Old Watch House Café, Frank Daw, Michael Hallett, Les Peters, Tiny and Kay

Phil Maggs won the first Thursday Night match held since October due to bad weather.

All the competitors enjoyed a calm, bright evening at West Bexington, with lots of dogfish being caught as well as some pout and a few small whiting, but alas no cod were landed. Best bait on the night frozen mackerel

Both the BRIDPORT and WEYMOUTH clubs' league games at first and second team levels were postponed.

The DORCHESTER first side managed to get a game in at OLDFIELD OLD BOYS, but their second and third sides' games also fell victim to the DORCHESTER would have, while not being complacent, felt that, at the onset that this was a game they should have won, if the form book and the current league table was anything to go by. As it is they would have ended the day rather disappointed that they could not have ended the first half of what has been a very useful season on a winning note.

AS Saturday next happens to be Boxing Day, league rugby will, of course, take a day off and two of the three local clubs have no planned activity for the

Jones opts for Somerset DORSET'S Chris Jones has set his heart on a county career with Somerset instead of Hampshire.

The talented teenager signed a summer development contract with Somerset CCC this year, after an outstanding season for Somerset YCs in 2008, and earned a call-up to the England Under-17s side

The 18-year old former Poole Grammar School student has played Southern Electric Premier League cricket for Bashley for the past three seasons, but not even the hypothetical offer of a Hampshire county contract would persuade him to think twice about switching his allegiance to Somerset. Jones, who is spending the next six months playing club cricket for Sydney University in the New South Wales grade competition in Australia, is planning to combine his economics studies with cricket commitments for the next three years. He said: "I'm based in Dorset now, I've got a county contract, and I'm proud to be in the Somerset seconds.

"I haven't made a decision about whether I am going to con tinue playing for Bashley yet but even if Hampshire wanted me to play county cricket for them I would choose Somerset. "Justin Langer and Marcus Trescothick have advised me to develop the right mental approach to one-day and four-day cricket and not to put too much pressure on myself.

"Somerset is the right county for me."

STRUGGLING Bridport failed to improve their league Dorset League Two position with three defeats in the lead up to the Christmas break.

With half the season gone Bridport are languishing at the bottom, two points behind Hamworthy and four behind BRIDPORT came back to earth after last week's cup victory over Weymouth.

The continued struggle in the league highlighted many of the shortcomings of the team, not least the fact that at an average age of over 50 against a predominantly younger, fitter Bournemouth 3rd's, it was always going to be a difficult

Mike Taylor at one, tried manfully against Darren Coghlan who was simply too sharp and quick, especially at the front of the court. A 9-3 9-3 9-0 loss reflected the difference in speed and agility, understandable in a player more than half his age On the adjacent court a much rejuvenated Mark Trafford levelled the match against the mercurial Howard Blaney to win 9-6 9-3 9-2.

Michelin star man Doug Fairlie at number 5 took to the court against Martin Player and after a whirlwind first game in which Doug completely dominated, it began to look as though he could cook up a good win. However, with the match hinged at 6-6 in the second game, three fairly simple errors gave his opponent the game and consequently the confidence to see out the match from thereon to win 1-9 9-6 9-6 9-4.

A bespectacled Simon Wood, suffering from eye problems - a major difficulty on a squash court, slowly clawed his way back into his match. After losing the first two games, he won the third with relative ease and at 6-2 up in the fourth he looked to have drawn the sting from Martin Alcock. However, it wasn't to be as Martin picked up his game to win 9-1 9-6 3-9 9-7.

The final match at number four pitched Jol Maclean-Wood against the youthful Brian Barnes. Jol was simply picked off by a talented opponent who controlled the rallies and sent Maclean-Wood scurrying to all four corners to record a very easy 9-2 9-2 9-2 win.

The team have a weeks break to lick their wounds before taking on Weymouth at home in their next match.

Bridport 1st 10 pts Weymouth 1st 15 pts HAVING turned over almost the same Weymouth team two weeks previous in a cup match, Bridport were hoping for a similar result in their latest league match. The omens looked promising when Weymouth gifted the home side three points when they failed to produce a number five string player

Surely this was to be Bridport's night, but Mike Taylor, fresh from reaching the Midlands Masters semi-final the previous weekend in Coventry, found Sam Squibb altogether a much sterner test. Squibb was quick and particularly sharp at the front of the court and Taylor wasn't, and in a close fought four sets won 6-9 9-5 6-9 6-9.

With the match at 1-1, Mark Trafford battled against Ben Lever on the adjacent court. The Bridport captain looked to have things well under control leading two games to one, but then the wheels came off and he only managed two points in the final two games, losing 9-6 2-9 9-6 2-9 0-9.

The resurgent Jol MacleanWood levelled things up on the night and put a gloss on the evening with another confident display showing that experience can count, by beating young Simon Horlock. Despite a blip in the fourth game, Jol produced enough good length shots to take the match 9-6 9-3 6-

With the team looking for Simon Wood to extract a win at number three against Gary Biles and crown only the teams sec ond league win of the season, hopes were high, and it looked positive as Wood comprehensively outplayed his opponent in the first game. However, from there on it was a different story. Biles simply waited at the back of the court as Simon's pre dictable shots were picked off to win 9-2 7-9 6-9 5-9.

It was an altogether disappointing night, especially as both teams accrued 10 points, but the extra five points for winning the match went to Weymouth.

The excellent match supper in the Woodman afterwards proved some consolation

Bridport 1st 3pts Bournemouth 3rd 17pts

In the last game of the year Bournemouth 3rd's handed out their early Christmas gift by announcing that they had only brought four players for what was the return fixture of two weeks earlier.

However they failed to take advantage of the three free pints, and in fact did not add to that tally as Bournemouth

Skipper Mark Trafford took to the court first and was dispatched in less than 20 minutes by Darren Coghlan, a supremely quick, fit, hard hitting player. 0-9 1-9 6-9
On the adjacent court Simon Wood took on Martin Alcock for the second time in three weeks. It has to be said that Simon was somewhat unlucky in a couple of the games, which with a bit of good fortune could have gone his way. Not least was when he was in a good position in the third game before the Still he came the closest on the night to winning, but still went down 9-10 7-9 7-9.

Mike Taylor playing at the lofty heights at number one, had a tough task against Sos Wilson who always controlled most of the rallies. An enjoyable game, but with the same inevitable result; the Bridport coach losing 3-9 4-9 6-9.

Jol MacleanWood had the misfortune of playing Brian Barnes again for the second time this season. He did fare somewhat better this time, but the talented Barnes just had too many shots at crucial moments to win 1-9 7-9 6-9.

Nick Neale's services were not required on the night.

Both teams were thrilled to enjoy turkey and trimmings at the Woodman afterwards. Once again a big thanks to them and indeed the supportive gallery watching the matches.

Tommy Tabberer cup first round tie at Beaminster Reserves was abandoned after 70 minutes – just 40 seconds after Beaminster had regained the lead at 3-2.

The Swallows felt the game shouldn't have started in the first place but were shocked when Referee Kelvin day called a half to proceedings so soon after the 70 minute cut-off mark which by League rules contravene a 'compléted' match. Uplyme do however have a means of complaintand may request a rematch.

Meanwhile Charmouth Reserves Division Four woes continued as they were demolished 9-1 at Winsham United Reserves.

Final against the Yeovil & District League were eased when the match at Somerton was postponed.

Manager Robin Townsend can therefore afford the luxury of naming an unchanged side from the one which coolly and decisively demolished Combe Reserves 4-0 in last week's semi-final. Despite going into the final against South Petherton as slight underdogs Townsend was positive his squad could give a good account of themselves and may have one or two surprises up their sleeve for their high-flying opponents. Petherton are in sublime form having won their last eight matches in which they've scored 43 goals and conceded just six. But don't go writing off Lyme.
